Quick Start Guide

You don't need to cut everything. You need to cut the things that don't matter to you. This kit helps you find easy wins, set swaps, and stop impulse spending without feeling miserable.

Do this in 5 steps:

1

Do a quick spending audit
(last 7–30 days).

2

Pick 3 cuts that don't hurt
(easy wins).

3

Choose 3 swaps to keep your lifestyle but spend less.

4

Use the Pause Plan to stop impulse buys.

5

Track for 7 days and review weekly.

Tip: Small daily decisions beat big “willpower” moments.

Spending Audit Worksheet

List your spending for the last week (or month) and spot the leaks.

Category	What I spent	What it was	Keep/Cut/Swap	Notes

Cuts That Don't Hurt + Swap List

Pick 3 easy cuts + 3 swaps. Less spending, same lifestyle.

Cuts (check 3)	Swaps (check 3)
▪ Cancel or pause subscriptions you forgot about	▪ Coffee shop → home coffee + 1 treat day
▪ Set a weekly takeout cap	▪ Brand-name items → store brand alternative
▪ Switch to store brand for repeat items	▪ Eating out → 2 planned meals at home
▪ No delivery fees (pick-up only)	▪ Streaming → rotate 1 service at a time
▪ Use a 24-hour rule for non-essentials	▪ New Clothes → thrift or “one in, one out”
▪ Unsubscribe from marketing emails/texts	▪ Uber/Delivery → pickup or batch errands
▪ Limit impulse store runs (1 planned trip)

Impulse Spending Pause Plan

Stop impulse buys without relying on will power.

My top 3 impulse triggers:

1) _____

2) _____

3) _____

My Pause Plan (circle one):

- 24-hour rule (wait 1 day before buying)
- 48-hour rule (wait 2 days before buying)
- Cash-only for fun spending this week

Replacement actions (what I'll do instead):

- Walk / stretch for 5 minutes
- Drink water + eat a snack first
- Add it to a wish list and revisit later
- Text a friend / journal for 2 minutes

7-Day Habit Tracker + Weekly Review

Track for 7 days, then do a quick review.
